THE ADVENTURES OF TINTIN
THE BROKEN EAR
Details are just coming in of a robbery at the Museum of Ethnography. A rare fetish - a sacred tribal object - disappeared during the night...

Now for a bath: that's the way to wake up in the morning.

Here is the eight o'clock news...

Knees bent, arms full stretch! Ready... Up... and down... and up... and down...

Come on, lazybones! Time to get up!

Toreador, on guard now! Toreador! Toreador! Toreador...

Toreador... tra la la la la... tra la la... tra la la... tra la la...

Fond eyes gaze and adore...
The loss was discovered this morning by a museum attendant. It is believed the thief must have hidden in the gallery overnight and slipped out when the staff arrived for work. No evidence of a break-in has been found...

Come on Snowy! To the Museum of Ethnography!

The Director? I'm afraid he's engaged: the police are here...

Now, to recapitulate... You say the attendant locked the doors last night at 1712 hours; he noticed nothing unusual. He came on duty this morning at seven. At 0714 he observed that exhibit No. 3542 was missing and immediately raised the alarm. Right?... Now this attendant is he reliable?

Absolutely! Above suspicion! He's been with us for over twelve years and never given the least cause for complaint.

Besides, the fetish has no intrinsic value. In my judgement, it would only be of interest to a collector...

Great snakes! The Thompsons!

Have you any leads?

Well, the Arumbaya fetish has no... or... no instinctive value. The solution is quite simple: it was removed by a collector.

To be precise: it was collected by a collector...

Aha! This is interesting... Listen, Snowy. Today we met our first Arumbayas. Long, black, oily hair framed their coffee-coloured faces. They were armed with long blow-pipes which they employ to shoot darts poisoned with curare...

You hear that, Snowy?

We decided to stay there. The gifts were generous and gave us a plentiful supply of curiosity and gave us a plentiful supply of... Curare!... the terrible vegetable poison which paralyses one's breathing!... Oh! "Arumbaya Fetish"... But... but... it's the very one that's been stolen!

I therefore made an accurate sketch; they urged me to do so.

Odd coincidence, don't you think, Snowy?... Snowy isn't interested... he's gone to sleep...

I think I'll follow suit.

The next morning...

Help! It's bewitched!

Hello!... Hello?... Hello!... Is that you, sir?

Yes, who is that?... Oh, it's you, Fred... What? The fetish?... My goodness me! I'll come at once...

Now, let's recapitulate... You say the attendant locked the doors last night at 1712 hours; he noticed nothing unusual. He came on duty this morning at seven. At 0714 he observed that exhibit No. 3542 was missing and immediately raised the alarm. Right?... Now this attendant is he reliable?

Absolutely! Above suspicion! He's been with us for over twelve years and never given the least cause for complaint.

Besides, the fetish has no intrinsic value. In my judgement, it would only be of interest to a collector...

Great snakes! The Thompsons!

Have you any leads?

Well, the Arumbaya fetish has no... or... no instinctive value. The solution is quite simple: it was removed by a collector.

To be precise: it was collected by a collector...

Aha! This is interesting... Listen, Snowy. Today we met our first Arumbayas. Long, black, oily hair framed their coffee-coloured faces. They were armed with long blow-pipes which they employ to shoot darts poisoned with curare...

You hear that, Snowy?

We decided to stay there. The gifts were generous and gave us a plentiful supply of... Curare!... the terrible vegetable poison which paralyses one's breathing!... Oh! "Arumbaya Fetish"... But... but... it's the very one that's been stolen!

I therefore made an accurate sketch; they urged me to do so.

Odd coincidence, don't you think, Snowy?... Snowy isn't interested... he's gone to sleep...

I think I'll follow suit.

The next morning...

Help! It's bewitched!

Hello!... Hello?... Hello!... Is that you, sir?

Yes, who is that?... Oh, it's you, Fred... What? The fetish?... My goodness me! I'll come at once...

Now, let's recapitulate... You say the attendant locked the doors last night at 1712 hours; he noticed nothing unusual. He came on duty this morning at seven. At 0714 he observed that exhibit No. 3542 was missing and immediately raised the alarm. Right?... Now this attendant is he reliable?

Absolutely! Above suspicion! He's been with us for over twelve years and never given the least cause for complaint.

Besides, the fetish has no intrinsic value. In my judgement, it would only be of interest to a collector...

Great snakes! The Thompsons!

Have you any leads?

Well, the Arumbaya fetish has no... or... no instinctive value. The solution is quite simple: it was removed by a collector.

To be precise: it was collected by a collector...

Aha! This is interesting... Listen, Snowy. Today we met our first Arumbayas. Long, black, oily hair framed their coffee-coloured faces. They were armed with long blow-pipes which they employ to shoot darts poisoned with curare...

You hear that, Snowy?

We decided to stay there. The gifts were generous and gave us a plentiful supply of... Curare!... the terrible vegetable poison which paralyses one's breathing!... Oh! "Arumbaya Fetish"... But... but... it's the very one that's been stolen!

I therefore made an accurate sketch; they urged me to do so.

Odd coincidence, don't you think, Snowy?... Snowy isn't interested... he's gone to sleep...

I think I'll follow suit.
Extraordinary! There was the fetish this morning, back in its usual place, with this letter propped up beside it... What do you think?

In my opinion, gentle men, the fetish is bewitched!

Dear Director,
I bet a friend I could pinch something from your museum.
I won my bet, so here's your fetish back.
Please forgive my foolishness, and any trouble I have caused.
Sincerely, X

My mind is made up: this letter is anonymous. Nobody knows who wrote it!

To be precise: I agree. An anonymous letter nobody wrote!

According to the police the case is closed... But that isn't my view...

Why doesn't he give up?

Here's the proof. Walker, the explorer, says he made an "accurate sketch". And according to the drawing...

...the right ear of the fetish is slightly damaged: there's a little bit missing.

I do beg your pardon, sir!
Wake up, Tintin! Look where you're going!

So, am I the only one to know the fetish they put back is a fake?

But on the reinstated fetish the right ear is intact. So it must be a copy... Now, who would be interested in acquiring the real one? A collector? Quite possibly... Anyway, let's see what the press has to say about it.

Oh dear, here we go again... Sherlock Holmes on the trail!

FATAL OVERSIGHT
A strong smell of gas alerted residents this morning at 11 London Road. The police, who had been alerted by a local resident, arrived at the scene to find the victim, Jacob Balthazar, lying on the floor of his studio. It appears that the victim had forgotten to turn off the gas, and the resulting explosion caused his death. The police are currently investigating the case.

Going round and round like that, he makes me giddy!
I'm minding the parrot for the time being. But I can't keep it. So if you know of anyone...

Of course... I was wondering if I might look at Mr. Balthazar's room?

This is where we found him... sniff. They had to send for a locksmith... the door was locked from the inside. The gas was whistling out of the ring.

A little scrap of grey flannel...

And so clever he was... Just look at those flowers: you can almost smell them...

You knew Mr. Balthazar well?

Err... that's to say... not intimately...

By any chance you found a parrot-lover... it's such a friendly bird!

Naturally, I'll remember you. Goodbye and thanks.

Great snakes!... Why not?!

I'll take you up. Such a character he was... sniff... I can still see him... his everlasting black velvet suit, and that big hat... And all that smoking! A pipe in his mouth all day long, he had. But he never touched the drink...

Oh?

Here is his room...

A very funny accident!... The gas was whistling out of the ring. So, if the tap was on when Balthazar went to bed he'd have heard it. Unless he was drunk; but he never touched drink. Therefore someone turned the tap on after the sculptor was dead, since the gas wasn't strong enough to kill the parrot. And that someone was wearing something made of grey flannel and smoking a cigarette...

...witness the piece of cloth and the cigarette end, which couldn't have belonged to the victim: he only smoked a pipe, and he wore a velvet suit. So Mr. Balthazar was murdered. He was murdered because he'd probably made a replica of the Arumbaya fetish for someone. And someone didn't want him to talk...

Someone?... Someone?... Who can that 'someone' be?... How can I find out?

A little scrap of grey flannel...

Half an hour later...

Yes, this is it. Ooh, sir, what a tragedy!... Such a polite gentleman... And all that learning!... Maybe he wasn't all that regular with the rent, but he always paid it in the end. And such a way with animals! A parrot and these white mice that's what he had...

This is where we found him... sniff. They had to send for a locksmith... the door was locked from the inside. The gas was whistling out of the ring.

A very funny accident!... The gas was whistling out of the ring. So, if the tap was on when Balthazar went to bed he'd have heard it. Unless he was drunk; but he never touched drink. Therefore someone turned the tap on after the sculptor was dead, since the gas wasn't strong enough to kill the parrot. And that someone was wearing something made of grey flannel and smoking a cigarette...

...witness the piece of cloth and the cigarette end, which couldn't have belonged to the victim: he only smoked a pipe, and he wore a velvet suit. So Mr. Balthazar was murdered. He was murdered because he'd probably made a replica of the Arumbaya fetish for someone. And someone didn't want him to talk...

Someone?... Someone?... Who can that 'someone' be?... How can I find out?

A very funny accident!... The gas was whistling out of the ring. So, if the tap was on when Balthazar went to bed he'd have heard it. Unless he was drunk; but he never touched drink. Therefore someone turned the tap on after the sculptor was dead, since the gas wasn't strong enough to kill the parrot. And that someone was wearing something made of grey flannel and smoking a cigarette...

...witness the piece of cloth and the cigarette end, which couldn't have belonged to the victim: he only smoked a pipe, and he wore a velvet suit. So Mr. Balthazar was murdered. He was murdered because he'd probably made a replica of the Arumbaya fetish for someone. And someone didn't want him to talk...

Someone?... Someone?... Who can that 'someone' be?... How can I find out?

Half an hour later...

Yes, this is it. Ooh, sir, what a tragedy!... Such a polite gentleman... And all that learning!... Maybe he wasn't all that regular with the rent, but he always paid it in the end. And such a way with animals! A parrot and these white mice that's what he had...

This is where we found him... sniff. They had to send for a locksmith... the door was locked from the inside. The gas was whistling out of the ring.

A very funny accident!... The gas was whistling out of the ring. So, if the tap was on when Balthazar went to bed he'd have heard it. Unless he was drunk; but he never touched drink. Therefore someone turned the tap on after the sculptor was dead, since the gas wasn't strong enough to kill the parrot. And that someone was wearing something made of grey flannel and smoking a cigarette...

...witness the piece of cloth and the cigarette end, which couldn't have belonged to the victim: he only smoked a pipe, and he wore a velvet suit. So Mr. Balthazar was murdered. He was murdered because he'd probably made a replica of the Arumbaya fetish for someone. And someone didn't want him to talk...

Someone?... Someone?... Who can that 'someone' be?... How can I find out?

Half an hour later...

Yes, this is it. Ooh, sir, what a tragedy!... Such a polite gentleman... And all that learning!... Maybe he wasn't all that regular with the rent, but he always paid it in the end. And such a way with animals! A parrot and these white mice that's what he had...

This is where we found him... sniff. They had to send for a locksmith... the door was locked from the inside. The gas was whistling out of the ring.

A very funny accident!... The gas was whistling out of the ring. So, if the tap was on when Balthazar went to bed he'd have heard it. Unless he was drunk; but he never touched drink. Therefore someone turned the tap on after the sculptor was dead, since the gas wasn't strong enough to kill the parrot. And that someone was wearing something made of grey flannel and smoking a cigarette...

...witness the piece of cloth and the cigarette end, which couldn't have belonged to the victim: he only smoked a pipe, and he wore a velvet suit. So Mr. Balthazar was murdered. He was murdered because he'd probably made a replica of the Arumbaya fetish for someone. And someone didn't want him to talk...

Someone?... Someone?... Who can that 'someone' be?... How can I find out?
Excuse me, but I've been thinking, I'll buy Mr. Balthazar's parrot.

The parrot? Ooooh, sir!

If you'd only been two minutes sooner! I just sold it.
The gentleman who bought
it was here a moment ago; you must have passed him.

Just my luck!

Look, there he goes! You see the gentleman with a parcel under his arm? That's him.

Let's hope he'll agree to resell it to me.

Estúpido! Imbécil! Great greedyguts! Look what you do: my beautiful parrot ees escapado! Ees perdido!

The only witness to Balthazar's death,
the only one who could have talked,
and there he goes.

The parrot ees give me
by my grandfather. Ay, qué desastre...All same,
muchas gracias for try to catch him. That's quite all right.

"Give to me by my grandfather" Why tell a lie?
I wonder, could he be interested in the parrot for the same reason as me?
Meanwhile...

It's raining. Professor. Don't forget your umbrella... and remember your glasses.

Don't worry, Ernestine. My glasses are in the pocket of my jacket... and I'll take my umbrella.

Pwark

Ker...

I must take a closer look... Now, where have my glasses gone? I know I put them in my overcoat pocket...

What a curious-looking creature!

Oh, it's a bird.

Good morning. How do you do? Pleased to meet you!

I... er... do forgive me, sir. I'm so absent-minded... Would you believe it: I mistook you for a bird!

Your advertisement reads "Lost: magnificent parrot. Large reward. Finder contact 26 Labrador Road." It will be in tonight's paper, sir.

Ees neceesario to make advertisement about the parrot.

There: "Lost: magnificent parrot..." Look, there are two notices. I'll try the first address: it's nearer than the other.

The sooner the better!

Grrreat greedy-guts!

I came about the parrot. Are you the gentleman who...?

Let's have a look...

Ah, yes! Do come in!

It's him all right! I can't thank you enough. You wouldn't believe what he means to me. Please take the reward.

Goodbye, and thank you.

It's me who's grateful!
Now, I want to hear Polly run through his part: "What the parrot saw."
But first...

I need to buy a cage. Look after that box, Snowy. I'll be back in a few minutes...

But First...

PWAR! PWAR!

GRRREAT GREEDY-GUTS!

Who does he think he is?!

Help! They're fighting!...
I must be in time to save Polly!

Grrreat greedy-guts!

Here, have you noticed?... There are two advertisements: and no one has brought back the parrot. It makes me wonder... Is someone on the track of Balthazar's killer?... Anyway, it's an address to remember: 26 Labrador Road.

Si, si... only two people see parrot escape... thees old greedy-guts and thees young man...

Where's that wretched parrot now?

No doubt about it... there's a burglar in the flat...

Careful... he's in there...

Put your hands up!
Ah, it's you! Caramba! Ees the young man who try to catch the parrot!

Come on! Start talking! You wanted the parrot? Si! Thees bird he ees mine. You steal heem. I make, complain to the police!

Really? Go right ahead. There's the phone; ring the police...

Now, let's be serious. I want to know why you're interested in our feathered friend...

I'm waiting...

WHEEE THWACK ZZINNG * * * BANG!!!

I saw you were trapped, so I came up quietly and switched off the light.

I have time to throw puñal at heem.

A few inches to the left and ... pff! Curtains for Tintin! I'll have to watch out; they'll stick at nothing!

I hear the puñal, he go whack into chair. I only miss heem by thees much...

I know, I know ... you need more practice.

That night, at 21 London Road...

That Mr. and Mrs. Dove! They've quarrelled once too often!

SHUT UP! I AM BALTHAZAR!

HELP! HELP!

Ooh, Colonel! It's the ghost of Mr. Balthazar! I heard his voice! It's him! I know it!

Ghosts? Rubbish! Stuff and nonsense! We'll see... By the left, quick march!

Have you quite finished up there?!!

Close ranks! ... Load arms! ... Fix bayonets!
Faithful unto death: a loving pet! Last night the occupants of 21 London Road, awakened by strange noises, found...

This time my luck's in! Quick! A taxi!...

TAXI!...

I give up. We'll have to walk.

Oh? The parrot? You really are unlucky. The gentleman who bought it yesterday came to collect it again... Not ten minutes ago...

He beat me to it, the gangster. And now he's got the parrot back.

LOOK OUT!
Road hog! He couldn't have been closer if he'd tried to run you down!

Yes, he deliberately swerved to the left!

Are you hurt? No, thanks. I had time to jump clear. I wouldn't have fallen if I hadn't tripped over the edge of the pavement.

I managed to get his number... Wait... 169... Yes, 169 MW... That's it. 169 MW... You'll have to ask the police... 169 MW. Thank you!

... I tell you, if that idiot hadn't warned him I'd have settled his hash!

Si, si, but truth ees you meess heem and from now he ees on hees guard. Ciertamente, Knife ees better!

In that case, you'll have to practise harder: you always throw too far to the right...

That's it... 169 MW... Doctor Eugene Treblebob, 120 Minstrel's Way...

Good!

This time I'm sure I'm on the right track.

Wrong number!... That man who told me can't have seen it clearly...

Anyway, it's possible they used false number plates on their car... Oh!...

Eureka!
Look, Snowy! You see: 169 MW.
Now watch: one... two...

They just turned their numberplates upside down... Perfectly simple!

Now then... MW691... Alonso Perez, engineer, Sunny Bank, Freshfield... Not far from here to Freshfield... Let’s go!

Three... Presto!... MW 69!!

Caramba!... Again ees too much to right!

Caramba!... WHOOPEE!

Estúpido parrot! You shut up!

Caramba!... Again ees too much to right!

All you need do is aim more to the left: that way you hit the bulls-eye...

You fool! What are you doing?...

Muy bien, aim more to the left?... Why not?

GRRREAT GREEDY-GUTS! Silencio! Silencio! animal maldito!

Grrreat greedy-guts! Grrreat greedy-guts! PWARK! PWARK!

You!!! You take that!

You fool! What are you doing?...

Carramba!... Missed again!

Carramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!

Caramba!
Ranón, if you lay a finger on that parrot you’re a dead duck!

YEOW!

Mala bestia! Kill him!

Carramba! Missed again!

Rodrigo Tortilla, you’ve killed me!

Rodrigo Tortilla! So it was Tortilla!

Lying crook!... Pretending to be a doctor on a study trip to Europe... But all he wanted was to steal the fetish... and the swine succeeded. By getting rid of Balthazar, he thought he’d covered his tracks. But he reckoned without our feathered friend!... I’ve got his address. I’m going to fix a meeting. He won’t suspect anything...

Hello?... Is that the Hotel Liberty?... May I speak to Mr. Tortilla, please...

Mr. Tortilla?... I’m so sorry, but he’s gone sir... Yes, to South America... Yes, he went to Le Havre, he sailed at midday... The boat!... It was called “Ville de Lyon”...

That tells me all I need to know...

We’re beaten!... There goes Tortilla peacefully sailing away to South America... If only that brainless parrot had talked just one day sooner...

... next bulletin at eleven o’clock... Now here is some late shipping news...

Do we have to keep listening to that wretched radio?

The strike of dockworkers at the French port of Le Havre has spread today. More than a dozen ships are now delayed. Among vessels not expected to sail before midnight tomorrow is the “Ville de Lyon”, bound for South America ...

Caramba! All is not lost, Ramón: we have time to get there!
Now, clever Señor Tortilla, the fun begins!

Several days later...

Was? Still nothing?

Nothing. No sign of them anywhere!

Perhaps he sees us and he keeps to his cabin... Or maybe he never came aboard the ship... Een thees case...

Ssh! Someone's coming...

Did you see?...

That figure... eet could be...

Tintin, couldn't it?

No, ciertamente ees impossible! ... Also, how could he know?

Sssh!

Or him?

It's crazy! We've started seeing Tintins around every corner! They're all fairly short...

O.K... But what does that prove?

Ees not right. Eet ees heem! Ees First one, thees one in the cap. I remember heem:

Ees in same aeroplane and he see behind us. Ees following us. I tell you, ees Tintin!

All right, there's only one answer. He's got to go!

Esta noche... tonight, after the dinner, we feel heem good!

That evening...

Now don't forget: aim a little more to the left...

Goodnight!... Oh!

Goodnight to you!

A weeg! Ees wearing a weeg! Ciertamente ees 'heem'!

Careful, he's coming! Now above all, don't miss!

OOH!... HELP!... MURDER! HELP!
STOP THEM!
HELP! HELP!
MURDER!

Madame! Ees close theeng... And to think I meess heem as well! ...Ees your fault. You weth your "Leetle more to the left"!
Well, it's the first time you landed where you aimed... Anyway, it's probably a good thing you didn't hit him, since it wasn't Tintin!

"Ees right. But I could swear eet ees heem... Only hees voice when he shout ees not heem.
There's still the other: the little old man.

Next morning...
You are ready? We now go to work weeth thees leetle old man...

Ees heem!!
Hespy on us!
O.K., let's see. We'll follow him...

Get it? If it's Tintin, he must be wearing a false beard.
So...

No, not that way. We aren't sure it's him. I've a better idea: come with me...

Steady!... You're nearly there...
...A little to the right... Gently... Back a bit... That's it!
... Now!
No, it isn't Tintin!

Now we're sure Tintin isn't aboard we can really get down to finding Tortilla...

Ah, there's our steward... Will you join us for a drink?

Thanks... I see you're up bright and early. Not like some I could mention... Take your fellow countryman in cabin 17... Never shows his nose outside the door...

...weeth fetish!

Why not? Sick?

He says he is, but I don't believe a word of it. Anyway, he hasn't left his cabin since he sailed... Has all his meals there... Well, cheers!

Cheers!

You heard that? The passenger in 17...

And you'll never believe it... Just between the three of us... the passenger... isn't a man... isn't a woman... but... an omelette!

Ha! ha! ha! Now wait for it... D'you know why?... Because he's called Tortilla, and in Spanish tortilla means...

...an omelette! Ha! ha! ha!

That's rich!

Ees beeg joke!

Got to go now... If the Captain sees me here I'll catch it... And you wouldn't want to drop me in the drink, eh?

Get away with you... you're a real caution!

That was a good one... drop in the drink... Get it?

Thanks to that nitwit we've found Tortilla... Ramon, the fetish is ours!

At last!
That night...

Next morning, the ship arrived off La Dique, capital of the Republic of San Honduras, South America.

Have you heard? That Tortilla... He's disappeared! He must have been pushed overboard! There'd been a struggle in his cabin!

How shocking!... Do they know who did it?

They do indeed, gentlemen!... Come on now!... Get your hands up...

Caramba! It's Tintin! I might have known!

Keep a close watch on them till the police arrive...

I am Colonel Jimenez, regular army. Captain Malderere... I have two prisoners I'd like to hand over, Colonel.

These two?... I know them both... dangerous crooks, wanted by our police.
A letter for Mr. Tintin, sir. A police launch just brought it.

Republic of San Theodoros
Ministry of Justice
Los Dopolos

The Minister presents his compliments to Mr. Tintin and requests his presence ashore to assist in the interrogation of two suspects. Mr. Tintin is further invited to bring with him the stolen fetish. An officer will meet Mr. Tintin on shore and put himself at his disposal.

Don't forget; we'll be sailing tonight at eight o'clock.

Don't worry; I'll be back, I don't want to get stuck in this place!

Now we just have to wait for that obliging officer to come and put himself at my disposal!

Hey! My suitcase!

Good idea of yours to meet the boat. Excellent... But there's still the fetish... Don't worry... they won't have it for long!

...And that's the whole story. Look, here's the fetish they stole from the wretched Tortilla Does anything in particular strike you about it? I reckon it's another fake. The right car isn't broken.

Exactly. So we still need to know two things. First, where's the real fetish... and then, what are all these gangsters really after?

Don't worry, I'll be back. I don't want to get stuck in this place!

All right then, that's understood. You'll pick me up here at 1900 hours.

Yes, sir.

Hey! My suitcase!

Dm'nt forget, well be jailing tonight at eight o'clock.

See you later! Good luck!

Thanks. Goodbye.

Things are beginning to move. I'll just get myself ready and then I'll go.
Ah!... It's still there... Whew!

What a fright!

That's him, isn't it?

Yes, he's the one!

Will you come with us, señor?...

Ah, there you are.

Excellent.

This is the man, Captain.

Captain, I don't know whether you're fully in the picture... I was sent for by the Minister of Justice to help in the interrogation of the two...

Cut out the talk! Do as you're told! I said open your case!

Very well, Captain... but I warn you, I shall complain of your behaviour...

Why all the soldiers everywhere? There's talk of a revolution...

Tell us, you will find in harbour. He has a small white dog. If you don't believe me later, open his case...

Rat Tat Tat

Come in!

Bombs! My informant was right: he's a terrorist!

Hold him! Take him to the cell block at once... to await the firing squad!

Captain, it's all a trick, I tell you! My case was stolen, and switched with this one!

OK, OK, we know all that! To the cells!
Well, well, here I am again... in the soup!

Still, it's not so bad. The launch from the "Ville de Lyon" is due to pick me up at seven. When I don't appear they'll go back to the ship and alert the Captain... He'll get me out easily enough.

Doesn't that dog belong to the lad they just took in?

Yes, and I guess he'll have a long wait for his master...

1900 hours...

Perdone, senor teniente, but are you waiting for a young man to take out to the "Ville de Lyon"?

Yes, how d'you know that?

Because he said to tell you not to wait for him. And here's a letter he asked me to give you...

"To the Captain of the Ville de Lyon,"

All right, thank you.

That's that taken care of!

There's the launch going back. They'll warn the Captain.

... And there's the letter the man gave me.

Las Dopicos

Dear Captain,

As you know, I planned to continue my trip with you. However, something new has come up concerning the theft of the fetish, forcing me to stay longer in Las Dopicos.

I am extremely sorry if I have incon-

What's happening?

It must be nearly eight o'clock and the launch still isn't back...

That's the "Ville de Lyon"!

They're weighing anchor... sailing without me!!

This time it's hopeless... I can't see any way to get myself off the hook...

And next morning...

Squad!... Ready!...
Comrades! The revolution has triumphed! General Tapioca has fled, the tyrant is on the run! Our glorious General Alcazar is now in command!

Long live General Alcazar!

Down with Tapioca!

¡Fuera los tiranos!

¡Viva la libertad!

In which case, sir, you are free...

That suits me!

Colonel!...Ah, Colonel! At last I've found you!

Now what's going on?

What is it Colonel? Have they caught General Tapioca?

Caught him?...You couldn't be more wrong, Colonel!...General Alcazar's troops have surrendered. Alcazar himself has fled the country. General Tapioca is now in command!

Are you sure, Colonel?

Sure as eggs are eggs. I've been looking for you for half an hour to break the news!

Hmm...In that case...

Long live General Tapioca!

Down with Alcazar!

¡Fuera los tiranos!

¡Viva la libertad!

I'm terribly sorry, sir, but the way things are, I'll have to carry out my orders and shoot you.

Take aim...
Salud!... By and large, being shot is just a nasty moment that's soon over, eh? One shouldn't take it too seriously.

Q...q...q...quite right!... Cheers!

Ugh!... Wasn't that a bit strong? You find it strong, eh? Aguardiente... it's our local brandy... Here, another little drop will do you a power of good...

You're a good sort, Colonel... Let's be friends... lifelong friends... till death us do part!

Squad!... hic!... R... hic... r-ready... hic!

Long live... er... long live General Alcazar... no... General Alcazar... Long live General Alcazar!

Bing! Bang! Boom!... I'm dead!... Long live General Alcazar and Uncle Tom Cobbleigh and all!

Oh, dear, oh dear... Rebels!

Run for it!

You're safe now! That's OK by me!... Then you can shoot me again... Long live General Alcazar, bless his cotton socks!

He's one of the General's bravest supporters. They had their guns trained on him, and he was still shouting "Long live General Alcazar!"
Go and see what's happening, Colonel...and bring that young man here to me. I want to meet him.

I've already been shot three times...so a fourth time makes no odds to me. I'm used to it.

Here he is, General...he was sentenced to death by General Tapioca. Our men arrived just as the firing squad were going to shoot him. They had their rifles up, and this courageous fellow was still shouting "Long live General Alcazar!"

Muy bien! I am General Alcazar, and I need men like you! As a mark of my appreciation, I appoint you colonel aide de camp.

But...don’t you think, General, it might be wiser to make him a corporal? We only have forty-nine corporals, whereas there are already three thousand four hundred and eighty-seven colonels. So...

I shall do as I like! I’m in command! But since you consider we are short of corporals, I will add to their number. Colonel Diaz, I appoint you corporal!

Here’s your colonel’s commission, young man. Now, go and get yourself kitted out. Corporal Diaz here will take you to the tailor.

A colonel’s uniform for our young friend? ...Excellent! I had this all ready for Colonel Fernandez, who fled with General Tapioca...He was just the same size...And for yourself...? A corporal’s outfit? I have just the thing...

That night... Comrades, we have a new member...an officer who preferred to resign his commission rather than continue to serve a tyrant! He will take the oath.

My career is in ruins. But I’ll have my revenge, on you and that confounded General Alcazar!

I swear obedience to the laws of our society. I promise to fight against tyranny with all my strength. My watchword henceforward is the same as yours: liberty or death!
The next morning...

Where's my new aide-de-camp? Not here yet?
Not yet, General.

As soon as he arrives send him in. We have work to do...
Very good, sir. At once.

Colonel!... How on earth did I come to be a colonel? I don't remember a thing...
However, I'm still looking for the fetish, and to do that I must resign my commission.

No, gentlemen: impossible. The general is waiting for his ADC. He won't see anyone this morning.

Them! Heem! Oh!

Ah, there you are, Colonel. We must get down to work. As for you, gentlemen: I cannot receive you this morning... Come, Colonel!

No more need for me to resign, for the time being.
The general choose Heem! It's crazy!

Thees ees bad!
Yes, now we'll have to deal with him all over again!

Meanwhile...
His office window is open... So far so good!

It's a delicate position...
Yes, very delicate.

I'm sorry, Your Excellency, but the General can't see you this morning. The General is extremely busy...

Checkmate, my dear Colonel!
Goodness! You're right!
My dear Colonel, I shall never forget how you saved my life!

No, General, let's say I managed to save both our lives...

Caramba! Back to square one again!

We've been taken for a ride. The fetish he had in his suitcase was a fake. But he certainly knows where the real one is. So tonight, we'll have him picked up...

And we make him tell us where the real fetish is.

That evening...

What a wind!... We're in for a storm tonight...

Look!... He's coming!
An hour later...

That's agreed then: as soon as he's told us where the fetish is, we get rid of him for good!

Ees right: he gives us beeg trouble.

We got him...

Good. Bring him in here...

Welcome to our humble abode, my dear Colonel!... Sit down and have a chat...

A neat trick, Colonel. The idea of putting a fake fetish in your suitcase wasn't bad... but now we'd like to know where the real one is...
Me too... I'd like to know that...

Come on! Cut the funny stuff! Where is it?

I've told you, I don't know.

Ah! Like that, is it? Very well.

I'll give you three minutes to answer my question. After that a little squeeze with my finger and... click!... Understand?

Caramba! Ees beeg storm!

One minute...

If only... if only I could free myself...

Tintin?... What's happened to Tintin?

Ees no use to struggle so hard, amigo. Ees good strong cord and tied very nice. You take my word for that...

Two minutes...

I must tell them something... doesn't matter what it is... otherwise I'm done for.

Thirty seconds to go...

All right, I'll tell you where to find the fetish...

Aha!... I knew we'd come to an understanding in the end. Where is it?

It... er... well, briefly, it's in my trunk aboard the "Ville de Lyon".

Thanks... That's all we wanted you to tell us.

And now we don't need you any more you can say your prayers! You're going to die!

Pronto, pronto, Alonso. You know I am upset by capital punishment...
Quick! He must have gone through the window!...

Down there! Ees trying to reach the road!

He cannot be far away...

There! Spot on! Every time a coconut!
Ten o'clock, and he still isn't here!

Good old Snowy! There you are!

Now, quickly, back to the general.

RAT TAT TAT

Come in!

That's it... All I need is a light...

¡Madre! I've forgotten my matches!

Hmm!... Surely I can smell something burning...
Check to your king, General!!

Diablo! I must watch what I'm doing...

That's checkmate, General!

¡Mil millones de bombas! You dare to beat me, your general?!!

BANG BANG BANG BANG BANG

Ha! ha! ha! ha!

It's a little joke I often play on my officers, to frighten them. Naturally, my gun's always loaded with blanks.

That reminds me of an aide I had a while back, Ha! ha! ha! ha! One day, he beat me at chess. I pulled out my gun...

This time, General Alazar, your reign is at an end! Liberty or death!

Caramba! Back to square one again!
I pulled out my gun and fired. Ha! ha! ha! Just imagine, the chap fainted... Ha! ha! ha! And best of all, can you believe it, next day he had jaundice! ...Imagine! Jaundice!

An attack!
The general's palace!...It's over there!
Another revolution?
It's all right! Quite all right! General Alcazar is unharmed!
Idiot! Surely you know that if you just put dynamite against a wall it only produces a loud bang; you need to bury it...Now, it's back to square one again!

Next morning...
Hello?...Is that General Alcazar's palace?...Oh, it's you, doctor, how is the general?...What?...What?...Jaundice!!!

Jaundice, yes...caused by shock, you know...
RAT TAT TAT
Come!
Who is it?
We are free, and soon the fetish crosses!

And soon we'll have our revenge too; we have old scores to settle with Tintin!

I see, I'm afraid General Alcazar is ill, and I cannot...

Of course, of course. But you could render us invaluable service. I mentioned that part of the oil-fields lie in Nuevo-Rican territory. My company wishes to exploit the whole region; so it follows that you must take over the area.

But... that would mean war!

Unfortunately, yes. But what can one do? You can't make an omelette without breaking eggs, can you, Colonel?

So, here's the reason for my visit. We will give you 100,000 dollars in cash if you will persuade General Alcazar to undertake the campaign... is it a deal?

You're making a big mistake in refusing my offer. But, just as you wish, Colonel! Goodbye!

A dangerous fellow! He could wreck all our plans. I must have a word with Rodriguez about him...
Ramon! What on earth...? Are you hurt?

Who was it? Who paid you to get rid of me?

It was Rodriguez... Mr Trickler's right hand man...

I see... Now get up. I forgive you.

I really think he meant it. Poor devil!

You shouldn't trust a rascal like that. You're far too gullible!

Here, sit down...

Oh, thank you, thank you, senior Colonel. I am your devoted servant... for life!

Some days later...

The General is back: he's completely recovered. At the moment he's talking to Mr Trickler.

Look, General... just think... It's wholly to your advantage. As I say, you declare war on Nuevo-Rico, and you annex the oilfields. My company makes a profit on the oil and your country gets 35%. But naturally you deduct 10% for personal expenses...

Yes... very neat... I accept.

Excellent, General. I was sure we would understand one another.

By the way, General... that Colonel Tintin, in whom you seem to have so much confidence, let me give you some advice: don't trust him... I won't say any more now...

Good morning, my dear Colonel... The General awaits you...

What is it now?

Send him in.
Good morning, General Alcazar. I happened to be passing through your country, and thought I’d show you our latest models.

This is our very newest line: the 75 TRGP. It’s a really high-quality product: flexible, easy to handle, strong, and it will toss a nice little nickel-plated shell for you over a distance of 15 kilometres.

My dear General, this is your country and I thought I’d show you our very newest line: the 75 TRGP. It’s a really high-quality product: flexible, easy to handle, strong, and it will toss a nice little nickel-plated shell for you over a distance of 15 kilometres.

Oh! This could be serious, listen, Ramón, Las Dópitos. A detachment of Nuevo-Rican soldiers crossed into the territory of San Theodoro and opened fire on a border post. Guards returned the fire and a violent battle ensued. The Nuevo-Ricanos were forced to retire across the frontier, having sustained heavy losses. The only casualty on our side was a corporal, wounded by a carelessly fired artillery shell.

The airport...

Now we are off to Sanfación... the Nuevo-Rican capital.

Very good, sir.

...and six dozen 75 TRGP, with 60,000 shells, for the government of San Theodoros. Payable in twelve monthly instalments.

To General Magero’s palace.

Very good, señor.

...and six dozen 75 TRGP, with 60,000 shells, for the government of Nuevo-Rico. Payment in twelve monthly instalments.

Half an hour later...

Back to the airport.

Sí, señor.

That’s Señor Bazarov’s private plane.
The next morning...

General, I warned you against Colonel Tintin... Look at this letter and tell me if I was wrong...

Republic of Nuevo-Rico

Dear Colonel Tintin,

We have safely received the plans of the TS TRAP which the government of San Não storm has just acquired.

As promised, the agreed fee will now be paid to you.

X. H.

Meanwhile...

The explosion is set for 11 a.m. What’s the time?... Hello, my watch has stopped!

Hello! Hello! Colonel Juanitos?... Take ten men and go and arrest Colonel Tintin at once!... Eh? What?... That’s an order, Colonel!... Move!

Now, let’s put it right...

Come in!

Good morning, Colonel Juanitos. Good to see you...

Hello! Hello!... I’m terribly sorry, Colonel Tintin, but I’ve been ordered to arrest you!

Ten o’clock. There’s still time before I need to deposit my little box of fireworks!

Ah, General Alcazar, you’re going to repent making me a corporal! Insult me at your peril! Corporal Díaz takes his revenge!

I’m terribly sorry, Colonel Tintin, but I’ve been ordered to arrest you!

There’s been a power cut this morning, so all the municipal clocks have stopped. Go and put them right.

There’s still some time before I need to deposit my little box of fireworks!

There’s been a power cut this morning, so all the municipal clocks have stopped. Go and put them right.

There’s still some time before I need to deposit my little box of fireworks!

There’s still some time before I need to deposit my little box of fireworks!
Yes, you can take these: they're my orders. The first concerns Colonel Tintin: he will be shot at dawn tomorrow. The other is for Corporal Diaz, my former aide-de-camp: I've made him a colonel again. He can resume his duties once.

Back in jail again! Unless I'm much mistaken, friend Trickler has cooked this one up to get rid of me.

Oh!... It won't be easy to escape...

Nightfall, and I still can't see any way out... There must be something...

Pull up the string: a rope is attached to it. Tie the rope firmly to the bar. When you're ready, wave your handkerchief. As soon as the bars have gone, jump out of the window.

Ah, here comes the rope...

That's it: he's signalling! Pull!

Hello?

Come on, jump! Quick!
Follow me! Hurry! They've raised the alarm.
Pablo, I'll never forget what you've done for me!

Take no notice! They shoot like a bunch of drunks!

There. Take the car and go. By midday tomorrow you'll be over the frontier. Don't worry about me: I've covered my tracks. I shan't have any trouble. Goodbye, señor Tintin.

Goodbye, dear Pablo. I shall remember... It is nothing, señor. I haven't forgotten that day you spared my life!

Hello?... What? ¡Mil millones de bombas!... ¡Déjelo... Recapture him, or I'll shoot every guard at the prison!

Perfect! They've moved out of the way! Oh we go!

I can't just run them over... I'll stop and play it carefully...
I want him, dead or alive!

There!!

It’s him!... Open fire!

RAT TAT TAT TAT

Snakes! I’m being followed!

Caramba! A train!!... We’ve got him. The road crosses the railway. He’ll have to stop, or he’ll be smashed to smithereens!

Tintin, my friend, this time it’s all or nothing...
He's going...!!
The fool!

We'll get hlrti jh the kvipnntflins.

Mountains! That's bad. Their car's much more powerful, and they'll soon catch us up...

We cut things a bit fine there... eh, Snowy?

Now, step on the gas! We'll get him in the mountains.

Tintin! You'll kill us!

He went over...

Caramba! What a drop!
I'm staying here. Why climb down? He's had it anyway, hasn't he?

As you like, I'm going to see...

He... he must have been hiding behind the rocks. I didn't see him coming...

It doesn't matter. He'll be caught at the frontier. It can't be far from here. We'll pick him up there. Come on!

It's a government car!
If they stop me, I'm caught... and if that's a strong barrier, I'm dead.

Hello?... Border post 31?... Patrol No. 4 here... A San-Theodian car with a mounted machine-gun just raced past here, heading for the frontier.

Red alert!... San-Theodian armoured car reported... Man your posts!

Watch our, Snowy!... They're shooting at our tyres!
Pass this communiqué to the newspapers. I want special editions on the streets in an hour!

An armoured car tried to attack border post 31. It was destroyed and one of the occupants, a colonel, was taken prisoner.

General! General!... This dispatch has just come by telephone!

"An armoured car..."!!! This time it's war! That's what they want: that's what they'll get!

WAR! IT'S WAR! A motorised column of the San-Theodorian army mounted a surprise attack today, but the enemy were repulsed by our valiant troops, who inflicted heavy casualties...

Hello?... Mr. Trickle?... Success! The Nuevoricans have just declared war on us!... Yes... oversome new incident on the border...

The Gran Chapo fields are ours!... Once again General American Oil has beaten British South-American Petrol!

In a fortnight all the Gran Chapo will be in Nuevo-Rican hands. Then I hope you in British South-American Petrol will not forget your promises.

The first chance we get, we desert, and...

... we look for these fetish again.

The Gran Chapo Start... Extra! Extra!... Sanfacion Star! Extra!... Sanfacion Star! Extra!
Meanwhile...

What will happen to me?

I don't know. We've been ordered to take you to Sanfacion, and that's all.

Good old Snowy! ... Keep on chewing!

Free!

This is it! Out we go!

BANG BANG

WOOAAAH!

SPLASH
Hold your fire: he's out of range. Let him go. He'll be swept over the falls...

If I can't reach that rock, I'm done for!

Whew!

WOOAH!

Well, what do we do now?

A tree trunk!... Don't let it go... it could be our only chance!

Ah! It's swinging round!
That's it... We can get across... with luck!

The first thing is to find out where we are...

Meanwhile...

Caramba! Listen to this, Ramon...

Drama at sea. The liner 'Ville de Lyon' caught fire last night in mid-ocean. Agency reports state that passengers and crew are safe, but all cargo and baggage have been destroyed.

The Fetish! The Fetish burnt!

Unless... unless Thees Tintin is lying when he tell us hees Fetish is in hees trunk...!

Don José Trujillo owns this hacienda... He is very happy to welcome you.

A house, at long last!

He's lost, and is seeking shelter?... But of course, bring him in...

That evening...

So the river is the Coliflor?... Don't the Arumbayas live somewhere along the banks of the Coliflor?

Yes, they do. But there aren't many who'd dare go that way. The Arumbayas are the fiercest Indians in the whole of South America. The last man to try was a British explorer, Ridgewell. He went more than ten years ago. He's never been seen since...

D'you think there's anyone who'd agree to take me there?
This is Caraco, an Indian who knows the river well. But I doubt if he'd dare go... there.

I want to go downriver. Will you act as my guide?

Si, señor.

...er... I want to visit the Arumbayas...

Arumbayas! Very bad people! No! Caraco no go!

Chicken!

Wait, Caraco. Think it over. Look what I'll pay you...

Caraco go. But Caraco very poor man. The señor will buy canoe of Caraco.

All right. I'll buy it.

Caraco know other white señor. He want to go to Arumbayas. Long, long time ago. Other white señor...

I know, he never came back...

And that doesn't bother you?

Tomorrow, we come to country of Arumbayas.

Soon is night, señor. You're right. We must stop.

Where's Caraco?

The canoe is still there, anyway...

Goodnight, señor...

Goodnight, Caraco.
He's left me!...Now I understand why he wanted me to buy his canoe... So I could go on alone!

Careful now!...Rapids!

The canoe!...The canoe, with the guns and the food!...All gone!

Well! Now I really am in a jam!...No gun, no food, in hostile country...and all by myself!

!?I...I don't count any more, I suppose?

It's funny, but I have a feeling somebody's watching us...

Y...y...you...th-think...s-so?
A dart!... It's sure to be poisoned!... Do you remember, Snowy?... Curare!

I can't hear anything now. I must have shaken them off...

Cowards! Come on out and show yourselves, unless you're afraid to!

Tintin, you'll get yourself killed!

Who are you? And what brings you to this place?

My name is Tintin... who... who are you?

My name is Ridgewell.

Ridgewell? The explorer? But everybody thinks you're dead.

What a pity! Or rather, what a good thing, because I've decided never to return to civilisation. I'm happy here among the Arumbayas, whose life I share...

And whose weapons you've adopted. What was the meaning of that little game of darts?
I just wanted you to have an unfriendly reception, to encourage you to leave at once. Believe me, if I'd wanted to kill you it wouldn't have taken more than one dart. Look, I'll prove it. You see that big flower over there?

Yes.

Ooh! I'm so sorry!

Good shot!

Don't worry, the dart wasn't poisoned. Use my handkerchief for a bandage.

Now, tell me how you came to be here in this country...

Well, it's like this. An Arumaya fetish in a museum in Europe, brought back by the explorer Walker, was stolen and replaced by a copy. I noticed the substitution. Two other men were also on the track of the real fetish and whoever had stolen it.

...among the Arumbayas I might learn something fresh about it...

Perhaps you may. It's quite possible...

I followed these two men to South America. They killed the thief on board ship and stole his fetish. But this one too was a fake. So now I'm trying to find the real fetish, and I still don't know where it is.

...Just as I still don't know what they were after...

Tortilla, the first thief, and his two killers. They all wanted the fetish, but why they wanted it is still a complete mystery. So I thought perhaps that here...

Rumhahs! ...Sworn enemies of the Arumabayas! ...
What will they do to us? That's easy! They'll cut off our heads and by a most ingenious process, they'll shrink them to the size of an apple!

Ahw wada tu vaili bahn chaco conats! Ha! ha! ha!

Just as I thought. He means our heads will soon be added to his collection!

They've gone... Snowy, you've absolutely got to save Tintin.

If I can find the Arumbaya village, and take this thing to them, perhaps they'll understand that its owner is in danger...

Meanwhile, in the Arumbaya village...

The Spirits tell me that if your son is to be cured, he must eat the heart of the first animal you meet in the forest...

I go, most powerful one!

What a strange animal!... And what's it carrying in its mouth? A quiver! That's funny... I must try to catch it alive...
See, O witch-doctor. This cloth belongs to the old bearded one, and the quiver also. Perhaps the old bearded one is in danger?

You mind your own business!... Give me the animal and go!... I shall kill the creature and take out its heart; this I shall give to your son to eat. Go now!

And if you breathe one word of all this, I shall call down the Spirits upon you and your family... and you will all be changed into frogs!

No danger now: he won't gossip... But he's right. The old bearded one may be in trouble. All the better! Let's hope he dies! Then I shall regain my power over the Arumbayas. Now, before I kill the animal I must burn these things... they might give me away.

Stop, O chief of the Rumbabas! The Spirits of the forest do not accept your sacrifice!

These two strangers are friends of the forest. You will set them free.

It's magic... witchcraft!

Magic?... Didn't you realise it was me speaking?... I'm a ventriloquist... Ventriloquism, I'd have you know my young friend, is my pet hobby.

Brother Arumbayas, you are about to witness a remarkable phenomenon...

Good heavens! My end!

We will take out this animal's heart and give it, still beating, to our sick brother...
The old bearded one!

The villain!...Lucky you decided to come and look for us Karamelo...otherwise we'd have been too late.

Let me introduce Avakuki, chief of the Arumbayas.

Owar ya? Ts' goota meechu mai tee?

It's a pleasure, sir...

Naluk. Dajem mem-bah dabrah nai dui?

Tintin zlux infu rit'h, Kanyah elpi?

Dabrah nai dui? Oi, oi!

Sala tolyar. Dairi b'giw dabrah nai dui to' Walker. Ewuz anais-

gi. Buttiz'h felaz tuahr presh usdiuel. Enefda Arumbayas ket chimai lavi. onsa gahtah'z. Nomess in'h!

I was just asking the chief about the fetish, and this is what he told me...You'll be interested...

I'm all ears!

Cohruv ahdok! Ai tolja tahiitta.

Ferlip inbail intada oh'! Andadokh meenis ferlip insee oh'!

I should never have started to teach them golf! They just can't learn to play properly!

But to come back to the fetish. The elders of the tribe still remember about the Walker expedition. It's quite a tale.

They know that a fetish was offered as a token of friendship to Walker during his stay with the tribe. But as soon as the explorers had left...
The Arumbayas discovered that a sacred stone had disappeared. It seems that the stone gave protection from snake-bite to anyone who touched it. The tribe remembered a half-caste named Lopez, the explorers' interpreter, who was often seen prowling around the hut where the magic stone was kept under guard.

But the Arumbayas attack the expedition and Lopez is wounded. He has to flee without the diamond. And that's it!... The diamond is still in its hiding-place, and that's why Tortilla, and after him his two killers, tried to steal the fetish.

So we meet again, eh?

We simply must get hold of a canoe... We'll rest here for a while before we continue our journey... Let's start talking!... Did you know the 'Ville de Lyon' had been completely destroyed by fire... burnt out!
Oho! So you lied to us! Well, now you're going to tell us where it is. And don't try to fool us again!

I've already told you: I know nothing about it.

Now listen carefully! There's one more round left in this gun. On the count of three if you haven't talked, I swear that bullet's for you! One...two...

Look out! A snake!!!...

Where?

Yow!

Here!

Ooh!

Ha! Ha! Ha! I've got you at last!!...

Caramba!!!
Where did you get this note?... Tell me!

In the ship, on our way to Europe. Tortilla dropped it. But we didn't know what it meant. Tortilla was just a fellow passenger. We only realised the significance of the paper when we read about the fetish being stolen from the museum. Then we decided we'd try to get the fetish away from Tortilla.

Excellent!... Now, the only thing we don't know is how Tortilla got hold of this note. But since he's dead, I don't suppose we'll ever discover that!... So now, gentlemen, let's get moving!

What are you planning to do with us?

No problem. I shall hand you over to justice. I think you well deserve it!

Hand us over to justice?... Ha! ha! ha!

Don't count your chickens before they're hatched, my fine friend...

Teep heem een!...

Got you!

Bravo!

There!...

Hee's feenished! Look, Alonso. These piranhas, these man-eating feedies, they came for heem already!
Caramba! I didn’t hit him hard enough. Look! He’s recovered…
He’s reached the bank…

Bah! Leave them! We shall be in San-Facion long before they are.

No point in trying to recapture them for the moment…

We’ve got a tough job; Snowy old boy. We’ve got to make the journey on foot.

Off we go!

Several days later…

San-Facion at last!… Thank goodness!... I really thought we’d never make it!...

To Europe?... A boat left yesterday. Now I’m afraid you’ll have to wait for a week.

A whole week! Oh well, we’ll use the time to get rested and sort ourselves out…

Listen to this, Snowy!... “The geological survey party just returned from the Gran Chapa report that they found no trace of oil in the area.”

A week later…

... the news… A cease-fire has been arranged between the forces of San Theodoros and Nuevo-Rico. It is believed that a peace treaty will be signed in the near future.

Home again! It’s good to be back where we belong, isn’t it Snowy?... All we need now is to unearth the fetish, and everything in the garden will be lovely!
Good heavens!... It's fantastic!

Think of the thousands of miles I've travelled to find this thing!

£100... Cheap at the price!... But come to think of it, I should have asked how he managed to get hold of the fetishes...

?!?... There's no mistake... They've both got a broken ear! I can't believe it... It's absolutely incredible!

This time I really will find out where they came from!

Good morning. Would you be kind enough to tell me who brought you those two fetishes?

Ah, yes, the two little fetishes... who brought them to me?...

A bit of a struggle, but at last I've got the address... Mr. Balthazar, 32 Lamb's Lane... That isn't very far. We'll go straight there.

This is it.

Here we are...
Are you Mr. Balthazar... brother of the sculptor who... Yes, I am. What do you want?

I wondered if you could perhaps tell me how you found the fetish you used as a model...

Oh, that's easy enough. I was rummaging around my late brother's things. The fetish was at the bottom of a trunk... But why do you ask?

Er... it's a long story... But... you've still got the original?

It's a funny thing... Someone else came to ask me exactly that question, only three days ago... No, I haven't got it. I sold it. But I can tell you the address of the man who bought it.

Mr. Samuel Goldbarr... a rich American! Snowy, we're going to pull it off... We'll find the real fetish!

I'd like to speak to Mr. Goldbarr.

Mr. Goldbarr is not at home, sir.

But, sir, I cannot...

That's all right. I'll wait for him.

But sir, you'll have a long wait.

It doesn't matter. I've got plenty of time.

But sir, Mr. Goldbarr has left for America...

Left for America!!!

...He's sailing today aboard the SS Washington. Perhaps, if you hurry...

...and of course he had to take the fetish with him! That's just my luck!

Ex...ex... excuse me... the... the... the SS WAS... WASHINGTON?

That's her out there. If you wanted to board her you're too late. She sailed an hour ago.
But if you really want to catch her, maybe you could hitch a ride from the air-base over there... It's not far...

...catch the 'Washington', eh?
...Hmm... maybe... We happen to have a plane going out to her... to deliver some mail...

First service for lunch, please!
...First service for lunch!

There goes Goldbarr... He's off to lunch. Now's our chance!

Ramón!... Ramón!...
Look!... I've got it!
Here comes the mail...

But the diamond... Where is it?

Eet must be somewhere inside...

Lee5ten, Alonzo... We cannot stay here any longer. Ees too reesky. Someone might come. We take thee fetish to our cabin, then we take our time to look...

Hello... there's a passenger...

I need to speak to one of your passengers immediately... A Mr. Goldbarr...

Mr. Goldbarr? You'll find him in the first-class dining-room.

Let's hope I've come in time!

! ? TINTIN!

Hands up!...

Oh!

The diamond!

Look out! Thees diamond!

It'll go into the sea!
Someone said there were three of them...

Look!...They're fishing one out now...

The...the others?

...Went straight on--down!
Oooh! My fetish! My beautiful fetish!

Mr. Goldbarr? I'm terribly sorry your fetish has been damaged. I can explain everything if you'll allow me...

...I think you should know that your fetish is stolen property.

Stolen?! ...But I...

Yes, I know where you bought it, and I'm sure the man who sold it to you acted in good faith...

If that's the case, I wouldn't consider keeping the fetish for a moment longer. If you're going back on shore, can I ask you to take it and restore it to the museum where it belongs? I'd be greatly obliged!

May I please speak to the Director?

And now, Snowy my friend, we're going to take a well-earned rest!

Wooh! Woah!

Toreador, on guard now! Toreador! Toreador!